

Pitchboard:

I changing my ideas of this pitchboard because the old one it's complex and disorder for this new one I just refer to Muji's website. So, this website should be clear and include enough important information.

For this website, I want to introduce my favorite Chinese local car industry Roewe.

Introduce the Roewe car series and development history could be suitable for this website.

There should be one page for contact information. So, I can get the feedback.

The banner should be the logo of Roewe car and the footer need include the copyright.

The website need basic on div and css format, to make it more flexible and fast responding speed.

The framework I just refer to Muji, because it was clean and powerful.
